The MOGA Spring Retreat brings outfitters from across Montana together at a different members lodge each year. This opportunity to view the varied landscape Montana outfitters live and operate in helps to foster good honest communication concerning the outfitting industry. The Spring Retreat has proven to be an excellent venue to discuss important issues face to face, and to build and maintain the friendly relationships we enjoy within our membership. We fully appreciate MOGA members' willingness to take time away from the demands of a normal day and participate in this productive environment.

Thank You Faber's for hosting the 2009 Spring Retreat!
